CANNED FRUIT: WORLD PRODUCTION AND TRADE STATISTICS //

"Canned Fruit: World Production and Trade Statistics" is one of a series of publications covering commercial production and trade statistics for fruit and vegetable products. Canned fruit items covered in this issue are apples, apricots, cherries, fruit cocktail, peaches, pears, pineapple, plums, and prunes. Production statistics are limited to major producing countries, while trade statistics include both major producing and consuming countries.

The United States, Australia, and South Africa are the world's largest commercial producers of canned deciduous fruits. Next in size are Japan, Greece, Italy, West Germany, France, and Spain. Total deciduous fruit production peaked in 1969, due mainly to a very large U.S. pack. Subsequent production has been relatively stable in normal seasons, if Greece is omitted from the picture, because of the incomplete series of Greek statistics. Available Greek statistics (1971-1973) show a steady growth in production.

Most significant producers are also exporters of note.

South Africa, Australia, and the United States top the canned deciduous fruit export list. Other smaller but significant deciduous fruit exporters are Italy, Greece, and Spain. Taiwan, the Philippines, South Africa, and Malaysia and Singapore are major canned pineapple exporters.

The principle import markets for canned deciduous fruits are Europe (notably West Germany and the United Kingdom), Canada, and Japan. The United States is the largest importer of canned pineapple. Other major import markets for canned pineapple are West Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Japan, and Canada.

Statistical data used in this report were converted from original container sizes to cases of 24/2-1/2 size cans on a basis of 45 pounds per case. Individual country trade statistics for apple products were converted to cases of 6/10 size cans at 36 pounds per case.

1/ Total refers to specified countries only and should not necessarily be interpreted as synonymous with total world output. Certain items are known to be produced in other countries but statistical reports denoting the volume thereof, though believed to be small or negligible, are not available. 2/ Data not available. 3/ Canned fruit cocktail and similar fruit mixtures.

NOTE: The annual canned deciduous fruit packs in the Southern Hemisphere countries (Australia, South Africa, etc.) commence in November or December of each year and become seasonally heavy in the following January or February. For the purposes of this table, such packs are aligned with the U.S. packing and marketing season which commences the following summer. For example, the Southern Hemisphere packs completed in early 1971 are shown under the column for 1971-72.
